A Mother's Love and Unwavering Faith

In the heart of every home, there exists a guiding light, an embodiment of resilience, and a source of unconditional love. My late mother Mdm. Wan Ah Mooi epitomized everything pure and selfless in this world - her love towards the family and God knew no bounds.

My mother was more than just a caregiver; she was a prayer warrior. Her unwavering faith in God was evident in every aspect of her life. She devoted countless hours to praying for our family, seeking blessings, and offering gratitude for even the smallest joys. Her commitment to spirituality was unparalleled, and her actions spoke louder than her words.

As a child, I witnessed my mother's remarkable ability to find strength in the face of adversity. Her faith was not merely a ritual but a guiding force that propelled her through life's trials. Her resilience in the toughest of times reflected her profound belief in God's plan and unfaltering love for our family. She exemplified the true essence of surrender and submission to a higher power.

In moments of joy and sorrow, my mother's love was unwavering. Her nurturing nature knew no bounds, and her love for each family member was expressed in countless ways. Her hugs provided comfort, her words offered wisdom, and her actions reflected a deep sense of devotion. Her love formed the foundation of our family, nurturing our spirits and instilling values that continue to shape our lives.

My mother's love was not confined to our immediate family; it extended to the community around her. Her compassionate nature touched the lives of many, and her acts of kindness reverberated far beyond our home. She embodied empathy, extending a helping hand to those in need and offering unwavering support to anyone who crossed her path. Her love was so unconditional, transcending the confines of our home and embracing the world with open arms.

Losing a loved one is an experience that shakes the very core of our being. Even more so when the loss is sudden and unexpected. When my mother passed away unexpectedly, it felt like the ground had been yanked out from beneath my feet. The shock, the grief, the confusion—they all hit like a relentless storm. Amidst the overwhelming emotions, however, there was a glimmer of solace— the unwavering trust in God's will and plan.

My mother was a woman of unwavering faith. Her favorite Bible verse was,

"It's more blessed to give than receive."

She lived by these words, embodying a spirit of generosity and selflessness that touched the lives of everyone she encountered. Even in her passing, her legacy of compassion and kindness continues to inspire those whose lives she touched. Amid our grief, it is natural to question why such a tragic event has occurred. It is during these moments of doubt and anguish that we are called upon to strengthen our faith.

Trusting in God's plan is not always easy, especially in the face of immense pain, but it is during these trying times that our faith is truly tested and refined. I found comfort in

Psalms 30:5 "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning."

These words reminded me that while the pain of loss may be enduring, it is not eternal. In our sorrow, we hold onto the hope that one day, we will be reunited with our loved ones.

Even in her final moments, my mother's love and faith never wavered. As she passed on, she was found with her knees knelt, a symbol of her full submission and surrender to God. In that somber moment, her legacy of love and devotion to God was etched into our hearts, leaving an indelible mark that continues to guide and inspire us.

Finally, my mother's sudden passing set a reminder for us that Jesus' second coming is as shocking and beyond our comprehension. We should wake up from our slumber and serve and love Him with all our heart, mind, and soul for the Glory of God!

A Blessing of Prayer for Mothers

Father God, I lift all mothers to You today:

- Praying for each mother, for the joy of the Lord be their everlasting love and strength. Praying for the teachings of the Lord to be imparted and be an influence in her life as she brings up her children in Your ways and Your reverence. Grant them spiritual wisdom, patience and Your sufficient grace daily to nurture her children's growth. Praying that no children will be lost or be lost for long, that every prayer reaches You and every knee that kneels diligently before You be seen.
- For single mothers. Praying for her faith to be rooted in the Lord as she raises her children not alone but by Your given supernatural strength to persevere and endure with hope and love for her children as she stands in the love of the Lord, for You are a God who never leaves nor forsake them.
- For those hurting and those waiting to be mothers. Praying for her as she grieves and struggles to comprehend the "whys" in the difficult times but yet still putting her hopes in You. Lord see that as their heart cries and their hurt magnified in their silence be met in Your perfect peace and comfort that surround those who weep, knowing that You have never forgotten them and are closer to them than they know. You are our Jehovah Rapha, the God who heals and You never waste the grief they carry.
- Praying for spiritual mothers and unbelieving mothers.
 1. Thank you for sending spiritual mothers and placing them amid Your children. Praying for the love of God to transpire in their work in discipling Your children to grow in Your kingdom.
 2. Praying for all of us who are still praying for our mothers who have yet to know You. Praying for spiritual intervention and for us as well to be a good reflection of Jesus so that they may see Him in us and believe.

I thank You, Lord, for Your calling and for creating every mother whom You have shaped with a unique blend of gifts and talent. I give you all praise and thanks for I ask and pray all this in the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of our Father, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, now and evermore. Amen
